

DIY VOLUNTEER IDEAS

VOLUNTEERING DOESN'T HAVE TO BE COMPLICATED TO MAKE A BIG IMPACT.

You can volunteer in a way that's simple, easy, and quick while still making a big impact in your own community. Here are 20 of our favorite ideas to get you started making a difference today.

- 1. Grocery shop for a cause. Pick up some non-perishable items on your next run to the store and donate them to your local food bank. Check their website for advice on what to get.
- 2. Shovel snow for an older adult. In the summer and fall, offer to cut grass or rake leaves. Ask them first and then head over to their yard after you finish yours.
- 3. Help a younger student with their homework. This is a great way to set a positive example and is appreciated by teachers and parents.
- 4. Make hygiene kits for the homeless. Collect soaps, shampoos, toothpaste tubes, and other personal hygiene supplies and assemble them into kits. Once complete, donate them to a homeless shelter in your community. Some shelters even keep donation wish lists on their websites.
- 5. Ask your local library if they're in need of volunteers. They're often looking for people to help with reshelving books, reading to kids, or other activities.
- 6. Instead of birthday gifts ask friends and family to donate to one of your favorite charities. Use your birthday as an opportunity to benefit others and talk about issues you're passionate about.
- 7. Rock the vote! Volunteer at your local polling station and help register people to vote. If you have kids take them with you and explain to them how elections work.
- 8. Visit a nursing home with your family or friends. Better yet, organize a weekly or monthly board game night with residents in the facility.
- 9. Stuff new, warm socks with water bottles and granola bars and leave them in public places (parks, benches, bus stops) or keep them with you to give them directly to people experiencing homelessness.
- 10. Organize a free library or a free food pantry for your street. Neighbors can give and take food if they need to, and everyone can share books.
- 11. Think fresh! In the summer, donate extra produce from your garden to your local food bank.
- 12. Spread caring words. Write greeting or get-well cards (or Valentines!) for patients in hospitals or nursing homes.
- 13. Help neighbors in need paint or repair their homes. No need to travel far to volunteer, often there is a lot to do in your own neighborhood.
- 14. Volunteer for your local park. Parks organizations often need volunteers to spruce-up spaces in the spring and prep for the summer.
- 15. Host a bake sale or lemonade stand and donate the profits. Add hot chocolate to your stand for a fall or winter treat.
- 16. Host a neighborhood clothing swap and donate the extra clothes. Gain some new styles and give clothes to those in need at the same time.
- 17. Collect unused make-up, perfume, and other cosmetics for domestic violence shelters. Often when leaving bad situations people can't take everything they need, so donating these items can be a big help. Check the shelter's website for donation ideas.
- 18. Don't be afraid to get your hands dirty! Put on gloves and pick up litter at your local park. Boost community morale and keep kids and pets safe.
- 19. Do errands, cook for, or otherwise help someone dealing with an illness. Sometimes people who are sick feel lonely, so keeping them company is a very kind thing to do.
- 20. Donate blood or volunteer at a blood drive. Even just one donation can save a life. So, roll up your sleeves and ask your school or local community center about organizing a blood drive.
